Miscellaneous.

The Heart's Door.

"I'll never forgive Fred!" said Dora, angrily, as she came into the parlor, holding up before her mother the fragments of a little toy—a tiny sofa—a piece of the set of furniture her uncle had given her a few days before.

"Dora, my child!"

"Well, I mean just what I say!" continued the angry little girl. "Fred came rushing into the summer-house just as he always does, and trod on it with his great boots; and when I spoke to him about it, he said he didn't care a bit, and wished he had broken the chairs too."

"Think before you say more, my dear.

Perhaps you vexed Frederick by your manner of speaking."

"I only told him he was careless and stupid, and so he was. It's too bad. No,

I will never forgive him;" and as she turned over the pieces of the ruined toy in her hands her face grew dark with wicked feelings.

"Dora, Dora! listen: some one is knocking. I am sure."

Little Willie, a three year old younger brother, stopped playing with his blocks on the floor, and looked at the door as if expecting a visitor.

"What do you mean, mamma? I do not hear any one," said Dora.

"Have you forgotten my daughter, that there is a door in your heart?" You have opened it once this morning, and let in an evil, hateful thing. No picture that could be made of it would be too dark to represent what is now in your heart."

Dora hung her head, for she began to understand her mother.

"And now, if you will listen, you will hear One, your best Friend, at that door

He is knocking gently. Dear little daughter, let him in. He has a message for you, and it is, 'If ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father which is in heaven forgive your trespasses;

and that word 'men' means everybody,

even Freddy, who, you think, has offended

you so much."

Dora's heart was softening. The tears came into her eyes. She opened the door of her heart a little way. Willie, who had been listening came, and putting his little arm around her neck, kissed her, but said nothing. Her heart's door swung wide open now, and love entered.

"Yes, mother, I will forgive Freddy," sobbed Dora. "I was as much to blame as he; and I knew I spoke spitefully, or he would have felt sorry when he did it."

"Then, my darling, thank that dear friend who has found the way into your heart with his love, and go now to Freddy, and make it up with him."

Dora laid away the fragments of the sofa, and went out with sunshine in her face and joy in her heart; for its door was closed again, and her best Friend was within.

—A young man in Vermont bent on securing a partner for life, called on a young lady and invited her to ride. He made himself as agreeable as possible for the first few miles, and, then, having mastered all his "mannish courage," broached the subject in the following style: "Will you marry me?"

The answer was short: "No, sir!" Gallant gent says:

"Well, get out and go home on foot, then."

The lady obeyed orders, and reached home in safety.

—The New Bedford Mercury tells a story of a witty "Colonel C——," who, when on his death bed, and near his demise, assured his friends that he could not possibly survive many hours. "Nonsense! Colonel!" encouragingly remarked one; "your feet are warm, and one ever died till the extremities became cold."

"Don't tell me that," squeaked out the sufferer; "do you think John Rogers' feet were cold just before he died?"

—Scarcely anything in life is so sweet as the repose of Sunday—the soothing suggetions of its devout offices, its silence, its calm, its immunities.

Choice Poetry.

FAITH.

Have confidence dear friend, in love,
And let thy doubts depart.
'Tis born in the bright realms above,
Close up in the heart.
Twill soothe thee, when distress'd with pain,
To know loved ones are near.
Twill drive pale sorrow from the brain,
And dry the falling tear.
Oh, trust in friend's tried wisdom,
It hath strange healing pow'rs;
Will soften like's sad hours.
Cast not the precious pearl aside,
Friends are not easy won.—
But follow her, white'er be the tide,
Her light's a radiant sun.
Centre thy faith in the Divine,
Look 'ward a home on high,
Where joy and peace serenely reign,
Whence friendships never die.
In Heaven's ark of safety rest,
Till summoned hence aw;

Then mayst thou dwl among the blest,
And bask in endless day.

THE SILVER SKIRT!

MORE DURABLE,
MORE PLASTIC,
MORE GRACEFUL:
And will keep its Shape and retain its Place better than any other Skirt.

This new and beautiful style of Skirt (Patented March 7, 1865,) was awarded by the Great American Institute Fair, held in New York, October, 1865.

A SILVER MEDAL:
the highest premium ever given for a Hoop Skirt.

The Steel Springs are wound with a fine plated wire (in place of a cotton covering) which will not wear off or become soiled, and the whole Skirt may be washed without injury or fear of rusting, and will be as good as new.

THE COMBINATION SILVER SKIRT!

This invention combines with the ordinary cotton Skirt the advantages of our Silver Skirt; the bottom hoops are the same as those used in the Silver Skirt, the covering of which cannot wear off, while the upper ones are covered with cotton. No lady having once worn one of our Skirts will be willing to wear any other, as the lower hoops of all other kinds are soon injured and soiled.

The best materials are used in their construction, and, from their durability and neatness, they are destined to become A FAVORITE SKIRT!

Manufactured solely by the Silver Skirt and Wire Manufacturing Company,

NEW SKIRT FOR 1866.

THE GREAT INVENTION OF THE AGE IN HOOP SKIRTS.

J. W. BRADLEY's New Patent DUPLEX

ELLIPIC (or double) SPRING SKIRT.

THIS Invention consists of Duplex (or two) Elliptic Pure Brass and Steel Springs, ingeniously braided tightly and firmly together, edge to edge, making the toughest, most flexible, elastic and durable Spring skirt used. They seldom bend or break, like the Single Springs, and consequently preserve their perfect and beautiful Shape more than twice as long as any Single Spring skirt that ever has or can be made.

The wonderful flexibility and great comfort and pleasure to any Lady wearing the Duplex Elliptic Skirt will be experienced particularly in all crowded Assemblies, Operas, Carriages, Railroad Cars, Church Pews, Arm Chairs, for Promenade and House Dress, as the Skirt can be folded when in use to occupy a small place as easily and conveniently as a Silk or Muslim Dress.

A Lady having Enjoyed the Pleasure, Comfort and Great Convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Steel Spring Skirt for a single day will never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. For Children, Misses and Young Ladies they are superior to all others.

The Hoops are covered with 2 ply double twisted thread and will wear twice as long as the single yarn covering which is used on all Single Steel Hoop Skirts. The three bottom rods on every Skirt are also Double Steel and twice or double covered to prevent the covering from wearing off the rods when dragging down stairs, stone steps, etc., etc., which they are constantly subject to when in use.

All are made of the new and elegant Corded Tapes, and are the best quality in every part, giving to the wearer the most graceful and perfect Shape possible, and are unquestionably the lightest, most desirable comfortable and economical Skirt ever made.

They ask a continuance of the public's patronage, resolved by good work and moderate charges to earn it.

CATARH.

CURED FOR ONE DOLLAR.

READ!—For one dollar per mail, I will send free to any address a recipe and medicine that will guarantee to cure the worst cases of Catarrh in the head or bronchial tubes in a few weeks. It has saved my life, and made me well again, from a severe and dangerous bronchial trouble I had suffered with for years. I tried the best physicians, and all the advertised medicines of the day, but found nothing till I obtained this. I would give one hundred dollars for this recipe and the medicine, if now had the Catarrh and could not obtain it less. I believe, if instructions are given, it will cure any case whatever, that has not already reached the lungs and become a settled consumption. Cure it while you can.

The Feeling in Richmond.

The Richmond Examiner, a reconstructing paper, keeps up its warfare against the noble few in that city, who remained true to the Union. The Unionists of the city remonstrated against the withdrawal of the military, upon which the Examiner comments as follows:

"The fact is, that when the blue uniforms are withdrawn, the 'loyalists' have nobody to keep them in countenance, nobody to associate with, and they feel very like they had got into the wrong pew. Let them seek congenial society elsewhere, if they do not like the contempt of the honest and respectable throughout the South. We are not likely to pay them respect if they live among us for a thousand years."

A MYSTERIOUS EXPLOSION.—The ship St. Joseph, which arrived at this port a short time since, took on board while loading at Liverpool a box marked "sodium," and the officer who received it was requested to stow it in a dry place, and in case he apprehended any danger from fire to throw it overboard. It was accordingly stowed on deck in a convenient spot. The captain, however, considered it a dangerous article, and soon after leaving port, the weather growing boisterous, he became more excited about it, and determined to get rid of it. The mysterious box was brought aft and pitched overboard from the stern of the ship. The moment it struck the sea a tremendous explosion took place, throwing up a huge volume of water, and threatening destruction to everything within a radius of its power, but fortunately no damage was done. It is not known what the box contained, but it is generally believed to have been filled with nitro-glycerine.—Boston Journal.

ALIANTHUS TREES.—The sanitary committee of Brooklyn, New York, have considered a complaint made by a large number of citizens with reference to the offensiveness of the alianthus, and report that the flowering tree of the alianthus is offensive, but they do not regard it as particularly detrimental to health. They say it is a clear and valuable shade tree, and is never invaded by worms and thus made a great nuisance. They recommend, as the tree is deciduous, and the female only emits the offensive odors, that the flower buds be removed before they have opened, or that the male tree only be cultivated.

CONGRESSIONAL SPEECHES.—A Washington letter-writer states that the newspaper correspondents and editors sojourning at the capital now charge from $25 to $100 for preparing speeches of an hour's length for members of Congress. The charge varies according to the merits and reputation of the writer. Every Congressman thinks he ought to get one or two speeches a session for the benefit of his constituents, just to let them know that he is still on duty. Every Saturday about half a dozen of members speak to empty benches for home consumption, or else get permission to have their speeches printed in the Congressional Globe without being spoken at all, and the chief part of this eloquence is bought and sold as above described.

The speech of the Emperor Napoleon, on the 6th inst., in reply to an address of the Mayor of Auxerre, was of so significant a character as to create a considerable panic on the Bourse, and prices continued to decline at last advices. Among other things he said: "I have a debt of gratitude to discharge towards Yonne. This department was the first to give me its suffrages in 1848, because it knew, with the majority of the French people, that its interests were my interests, and that I detested equally with them those treaties of 1815 which it is now sought to make the sole basis of our foreign policy." This warlike tone has excited apprehensions of trouble in England, too, it appears.

Attempts at assassination, from political motives, threatened to become epidemic in Europe. The recent attacks upon the Emperor of Russia and the King of Prussia have been followed by another upon Count Bismarck. This last one was made, by a young man, twenty-two years of age, a stepson of the well-known republican refugee in London, Karl Blum. Count Bismarck himself seized the would-be assassin, who, after being taken to jail, contrived to stab himself nine times in the throat and died the next morning of his wounds.

Gold has been discovered in Indiana. The Indianapolis Journal says: "We have seen and examined some gold from Brown county, and it is as near the pure metal, and is found in as large quantities, as it is in California. Old miners say that the mines in Brown county will pay equally well, if not better, than the mines of the golden El Dorado."

A most extravagant story is told from Cincinnati about a lady in Brown county, Kentucky, who, a few days ago, had twins—a boy with eight teeth and a girl with four. We presume the mother will forthwith proceed to wear her precious darlings.

A YOUTHFUL SOLDIER.—Charles A. Cook, of Milton, Mass., entered the army before he was twelve years old, passing muster on account of his size, served one year and was wounded four times, and is now fourteen years old and draws an annual pension of ninety-six dollars.

Record Your Deeds.

The attention of parties holding unrecorded Deeds is directed to the provisions of the Act of Assembly which require that:

"All deeds and conveyances for real estate in this Commonwealth shall be recorded in the office for Recording Deeds in the county where the lands lie, within six months after the execution of such deed and conveyance; and every such deed and conveyance, not recorded as aforesaid, shall be adjudged FRAUDULENT AND VOID against any subsequent purchaser for a valuable consideration unless such deed be recorded before the recording of the deed or conveyance under which such a subsequent purchaser or mortgagee shall claim."

This is a very important notice, and those holding unrecorded deeds will see the importance of having them recorded without further delay.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Importance of Having Davis' Pain-Killer Always on Hand.

Wonderful Cure of the Rev. D. L. Brayton, Missionary in India, who was stung by a Scorpion.

Extract from his letter, published in the Baptist Missionary Magazine:

"For the first time since I have been in India, I have been stung by a scorpion. I went this morning to my exercises, as usual, at early dawn, and having occasion to use an old box, on taking off the cover I put my hand on a scorpion, which immediately resented the insult by thrusting its sting into the palm of my hand. The instantaneous and severe pain which darted through the system is quite incredible; when at a awfuly virulent poison their sting must contain: I flew to my bottle of Davis' Pain-Killer, and found it to be true in its name; after a moment's relief, I saturated a small piece of sponge, bound it on my hand, and went about my exercises, feeling no more particular inconvenience" [May 8.—1.]

Excitement in Europe.

The uneasy state of feeling and popular ferment, which prevails in Europe, is on the increase in Europe. Each fresh arrival brings additional news of excitement in political and financial circles, and the spread of that unpleasant feeling of distrust which anticipates ruin. Even sober England has been seized with a financial panic which has carried down many of the best and most firmly established houses, and the banks have been subject to a run which appeared more like a mob than anything else. All Americans will regret that Sir Morton Peto should be one of the victims of this financial panic, as his visit to this country, and the interest manifested by him in our public works, endeared him to our people. The Bank of England was compelled to advance its interest from seven to ten per cent within forty-eight hours, and such was the terror of the people that the doors of the bank were completely besieged, and the Government was compelled to suspend the Bank Charter and allow the issue of additional notes by the Bank of England to relieve the immediate distress.

Society was startled, moreover, by the attempted assassination of Count Bismarck, the Prussian Prime Minister; and Louis Napoleon, the ordinarily reticent and cautious politician, has so far committed himself as to express his désatuation of the treaty of 1815. This simple announcement, in a short address at Auxerre on the 6th inst., was accepted by the Bourbons as a declaration of war, and the Rentes fell two per cent, while several panics set in.

Austria, Prussia and Italy are already armed, and Russia is reported to be arming, while Turkey is raising her force to a war footing, and calls out twenty thousand reserves. The Italian Government has received extraordinary powers—the cities are voting rewards and pensions to soldiers—and in Venice the Austrians have, with their usual want of prudence, conducted themselves with great rigor and brutality.

All this looks very much like war; but diplomats, in the meantime, are each begging the other to keep quiet, and trying to shift the responsibility. It is still asserted in the Paris press that peace is possible if England and Russia will only join France in efforts to prevent hostilities; and while it is pretty sure that France can do more towards prevention than any other country, these announcements indicate a disposition to make war, and throw the blame of it elsewhere. We cannot foresee the consequences of such a state of feeling, and, therefore, shall not attempt to predict them.

Whilst peace remains unbroken, and no actual blow is struck, we shall hope that better advices will prevail, and the menaced war be avoided; but we shall not be surprised at the announcement that hostilities have commenced. In the meantime it becomes us to be careful in our business operations, especially such as are affected by Europe. Our importers and exporters must try to avoid all ruinous complications. The sending back of United States securities and the exportation of gold cannot continue long; and, if war actually does take place in Europe, we may look out for an increased demand for our Government bonds across the water. Everything there will necessarily be uncertain, and United States securities, while paying a good interest, will offer them the inducement of better security than their own.

ANOTHER NOVELTY IN THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH.—On Tuesday morning St. Luke's Episcopal church, in New York, was the scene of an imposing ceremony, during which a young lady, who recently became a member of St. Mary's sisterhood, was solemnly consecrated by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Potter. At eleven o'clock the edifice was occupied by a large congregation. Several of the Sisters of the organization sat in the pews near the altar. They appeared in the black robes of the order, their dress resembling that of the Catholic Sisters of Charity. Bishop Potter, Rev. Mr. Tuttle, and six other clergymen from various parishes were present in the chancel. The ceremonies were preceded by the antecommunion service, after which the lady candidate for consecration was led to the altar, and solemnly set apart for the Christian work in which she had resolutely engaged. The young lady received the name of Sister Agnes from Bishop Potter after consecration.—N. Y. Express.

PENSIONS.—A new pension bill has just passed the United States Senate. It provides that $25 a month shall be paid to persons who have been permanently injured whilst in the military or naval service of the country, and are incapacitated for labor in consequence; $20 a month to those who are not obliged to have continual care and attention; and $15 a month to those who have lost a hand, an arm or a leg. The bill expressly forbids the transfer, sale, mortgage or other disposition of pension claims to second parties. It also provides for the payment of a pension to a minor child or children of a widow entitled to a pension, if she is deemed unqualified to take care of her children, in consequence of immoral conduct. This bill, which is supplementary to the other pension laws, is yet to be acted on by the House.

THE FIRE AT THE GOVERNMENT WOOD-YARD NEAR ALEXANDRIA.—It is estimated that the wood destroyed by the fire on Tuesday night near Alexandria was worth some $75,000. The yard contained over 30,000 cords, and there were about 12,500 cords of excellent seasoned oak and hickory in the pile destroyed. Herculean exertions were made by the firemen and others to save this property, but in consequence of the high wind the flames spread rapidly, and it was only by unremitting labor that they were prevented from extending to the adjoining piles (which, being pine, would have burned rapidly), and from thence to the buildings in the vicinity.

PAPER.—Paper, manufactured from wood, is now being freely made at several places in New England. The mills we think will go on increasing in number until the price of paper shall come down to a rate which will allow publishers of newspapers to pay their way by their subscriptions. For the last four or five years the struggles of publishers cannot be imagined by the readers of their papers. The price which has been charged for newspapers has borne and still bears comparison to the cost.

ZION'S CLASSIS.—Zion's classis of the German Reformed Church, met recently at Mechanicsburg, Cumberland county, Rev. W. H. Dietrich, of this place, was elected Permanent Clerk. Mr. Dietrich was also chosen one of the delegates to the General Synod, to meet in Dayton, Ohio, in November next. The classis will hold its meeting next year at Gettysburg.

JOHN MORRISSEY.—John Morrissey, ex-pugilist, is at Washington representing and defending the lottery system. A fit representative of a vicious system.

MONUMENT MEETING.—In pursuance of a published call, a respectable number of the soldiers and citizens of Adams county met in the Court-house, on Saturday last, at 10 o'clock, A. M., to inaugurate a movement for the erection of a Monument to the deceased soldiers of the County in the Public Square of this place. Col. C. H. Buehler was called to the Chair, and Adj't. J. H. White appointed Secretary. A committee to report a plan of operations was appointed, and a resolution entrusting the direction of the whole affair to the hands of the surviving soldiers, adopted.

The meeting re-convened at 12, P. M., when the committee reported, and their report was adopted. It embraces the appointment of an Executive Committee of thirteen, with a sub-committee of two in each borough and township, to solicit subscriptions. An effort is to be made to raise $10,000, in order that a creditable memorial may be erected. Full proceedings in our next.

PAINTING OF BATTLEFIELD.—The movement takes a fair start, and with proper vigor, will prove an entire success.—This energy, we believe, will be displayed by those having the management in hand.

REBEL RELICS.—The Legislature, at its last session, appointed a joint committee to contract for a Painting of the Battle of Gettysburg. That committee met at Harrisburg on Friday last, and awarded the contract to Peter C. Rotheimer, of the city of Philadelphia.

The Committees consist of Messrs. McConaughy, Connell and Glatz, of the Senate, and Messrs. Kerns, Markley and Allen, of the House. The Committees, with the Governor, propose a visit to the Battle-field in June. Generals Grant and Meade have promised to visit Gettysburg and accompany them over the battle-field. After which the Committee will determine finally upon the design for the painting.

LEG BROKEN.—We regret to learn that, on Saturday week, whilst Samuel Wolf, Esq., (of New Oxford), one of the County Commissioners, was riding in a sulky, his horse commenced kicking, and striking Mr. W. below the knee, fractured his leg in a shocking manner—some of the bones protruding through the boot. Medical aid was summoned, and he is doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

SAD AND FATAL ACCIDENT.—On the afternoon of the 26th ult., while Mr. Samuel Delar, residing near Heidersburg, in this county, was engaged, with his two sons, in felling timber in the woods, the younger of them lost his life under the following melancholy circumstances: Mr. D. had set his elder son to cutting down a tall sapling, while himself and younger son, a lad in his fourteenth year, were employed with axes at a little distance, but in a direction entirely different from that in which they expected the tree to fall.—There was, however, at that time, a strong wind from the North-east which bore it at about right angles to its intended course, and barely missing the father it struck the boy upon the side of the face and back of the neck. He was taken up insensible and continued so until he expired about the middle of the ensuing night. Surgical aid had been in due time called in, but proved utterly unavailing.—STAR.

THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH.—The Episcopal Church in Hagerstown was entirely consumed by fire on the 21st inst. The fire was communicated from some stables contiguous, which caught by accident, two or three of which were burnt. The organ was saved, but in a damaged condition. Loss about $5,000.

THE ANNUAL TUNKER MEETING.—The Annual Tunker Meeting, near Waynesboro, last week, was an immense gathering, the largest of the kind ever before held. It is estimated that fifteen thousand people were present. The hospitality of this denomination has passed into a proverb, and of course none were turned away hungry on this great occasion. The leading preachers in the church, from all parts of the United States, were present. The Western States were largely represented, whilst Pennsylvania and Maryland sent their thousands. Hundreds from this county attended, all of whom speak highly of the meeting, the good preaching, the good order, and the substantial hospitality extended to everybody.

UNION.—The members of the Old and New School Assemblies of the Presbyterian Church, which bodies met at St. Louis this month, had a meeting together on Tuesday night last, for the first time since 1837, to discuss the question of re-union. Eloquent speeches were made on the occasion; and the meeting terminated by 1200 persons rising and voting that they considered the re-union of both Churches both desirable and practicable. It is thought the Assemblies will organize measures to effect an organic re-union.

CLASSIC.—Zion's classis of the German Reformed Church, met recently at Mechanicsburg, Cumberland county, Rev. W. H. Dietrich, of this place, was elected Permanent Clerk. Mr. Dietrich was also chosen one of the delegates to the General Synod, to meet in Dayton, Ohio, in November next. The classis will hold its meeting next year at Gettysburg.

MR. SAMUEL HERBET.—Mr. Samuel Herbet has sold 10 acres and 24 perches of woodland, in Cumberland township, to Adam Bollinger, for $500 cash.

RAILWAY SURVEY TO YORK.—We learn that the people in and about East Berlin, are beginning to talk with considerable earnestness of the extension of the Gettysburg Railroad from New Oxford via East Berlin to York. They had a second survey made, by J. S. Gitt, from Berlin to York, and he has greatly improved the last line over the former survey. From Mr. Gitt's second examination, the road has been shortened a quarter of a mile, and will cost much less than the first route surveyed. A practicable route has been obtained, and is only half a mile longer than the Abbottstown route, though it is expected will cost something more.—HANOVER CITIZEN.

NEW DIRECTOR.—The Directors of the Poor, on Tuesday last, appointed Mr. John Nunnemaker, of Liberty township, Director in place of Mr. Kris, deceased. He will serve until fall. Mr. N. is admirably qualified, and will make an efficient Director.
